

National Leased Housing Association

NLHA is a sophisticated and effective force in dealing with the changing political and economic realities of low and moderate income housing, providing their members with timely, detailed information on the latest program developments and requirements.

» website

Sheltering its members. Leveraging their existing logo identity that we previously designed, and after detailed discussions with NLHA staff about their goals for the new website, we recommended a responsive designed site to allow for mobile viewability. And, we incorporated sophisticated functionality for their members-only area and integrated the site into an easy-to-use CMS.