

The Subcontract Management Institute (ScMI)

ScMI provides prime and subcontractor personnel with the knowledge, skills, tools and techniques to deliver best value supplies, services and data and reduce performance risk in the execution of publicly-funded contracts. Integrates certification standards with qualification standards.

Phenomenal training. To help ScMI deliver the best training, we created a brand new website for them. We made their site's audience the center of our focus. We laid out the best approach to help their users navigate the site and obtain just what they need to help them get certified. With a well thought out user experience, modern and sleek design, we gave ScMI the online presence they needed.